

Analog IC Architect

Apply Now

Company: ic resources

Location: Greece

Category: computer-and-mathematical

I am recruiting for a reputable organisation in Athens, Greece.

I am looking for an individual who will join my client as the IC Architect to support the organisation in developing integrated circuits.

This opportunity will allow you to collaborate with external suppliers to design and deliver innovative solutions, ensuring the successful integration of integrated circuits into my client's products.

Responsibilities will include but are not limited to:

Collaborate internally to define requirements, develop product solutions, and select architecture/design blocks based on application needs, prioritising power efficiency, accuracy, reliability, and safety.

Work with external subcontractors to co-design and optimise IC solutions meeting performance, power, and safety criteria, including hands-on implementation of Analog/Mixed Signal circuits and subsystems.

Conduct IP bench validation and support design reviews, evaluations, and test result analyses.

If you would like more information, please contact Parm Shergill.
