IT

80,000 € to 110,000 € / year

With RIB HUB, our initiative to create a new SaaS offering, we aim to transform our industry to achieve new levels of efficiency and sustainability by connecting stakeholders and processes across the entire project lifecycle in an open ecosystem. With this goal in mind, several of our product lines are working together in the initiative to combine their respective expertise and extensive market experience for an innovative end-to-end solution.

You will play a central role in delivering high quality software by aligning and coordinating all teams involved, improving the process and ensuring release quality and compliance to deliver value iteratively and efficiently. In this role, you will report directly to the responsible Vice President.

Tasks

Planning and maintaining the software release schedule across the product lines involved

Management and coordination of releases, such as testing and deployment

Monitoring and reporting on the progress and performance of the release

Resolving issues and dependencies that may arise during the release process to ensure a successful, timely and cost-effective release

Coordinating the timely resolution of high priority defects

Maintenance of release documentation

Management of the release process, including capacity and risk management

Continuous optimization of the approval process to minimize dependencies between the teams involved and ensure transparency in implementation

Ensuring appropriate communication and transparency throughout the approval process

Collaborate with colleagues from development, operations and other areas to ensure smooth approvals and highlight deficiencies in these areas to program management

Ensure compliance with organizational and industry standards

Maintaining a good relationship with all relevant stakeholders, e.g. by involving them in the approval process and supporting them

Ensuring regular reporting/provision of information on activities to all parties involved

Qualification

Completed studies in computer science, information technology or comparable

More than 5 years of professional experience in project management within software development and/or release management

Proven track record/ hands-on experience of software releases

Excellent communication and organizational skills

Ability to work independently and as part of a team

Knowledge of software development and release processes

Knowledge of ITIL and Agile methods

Good knowledge of German and very good knowledge of English (level C1/C2)
