Tours and excursions to Delos

For centuries now, the local Myconian caiques have serviced the route from Mykonos to Delos and from Delos to Mykonos, as there was never a connection between Delos and Piraeus. Since the end of the 19th century, when the systematic archaeological excavation started, the trips over to the island have become more frequent.

Rowing boats, belouthes and caiques of the past have been replaced, today, with the contemporary and totally safe small vessels which continue to provide the transportation service between cosmopolitan Mykonos and the historical, archaeological island of Delos.

During the summer, hundreds of tourists from picturesque Mykonos and the nearby islands visit the birthplace of two of the most important ancient Greek gods, Apollo and Artemis and so live a unique experience.

An entire ancient city awaits them when they reach the sacred island. The ancient homes, “guest quarters”, market places, public squares and buildings, the sanctuaries and temples dedicated to the ancient gods and every other facility which a well organized city had to offer, come to life before your eyes and fill you with admiration and awe. The Museum, with its numerous exhibits from all the historical periods which are represented on the island, is ready to amaze anyone who visits it.

Last of all, next to the Museum there is a coffee shop, where one can take a break and relax.

The small boats which service the crossing of archaeologists, researchers, guards, tourist guides and travellers, have been a family business since the 1920s, when Captain Constantis 'Rouhos', transferred locals and farming animals from Mykonos to neighboring Rhenia with his wooden caique "MARGARITA". That is when he gradually started taking the first tourists over to Delos. In the early '70s, his son-in-law, Captain Giorgis "Asvestas", took over and replaced the wooden caique with a motorized small boat called "NERAIDA", which was used up until the end of the '70s. As the demands of the market increased, Captain Giorgis, built a bigger metal boat and called it "NERAIDA II", which ran between 1986 and 1993, when he replaced it with his first larger 40m long M/V, called "HERA". As the years passed, he added new vessels to the fleet.

In 1994 the "DELOS EXPRESS", in 1998 the "MARGARITA X", in 2003 the "ORCA", in 2013 the MYKONOS EXPRESS, in 2015 the MYKONOS STAR, in 2017 the "MYKONOS SPIRIT/ Glassbottom, in 2018 the "MYKONOS JEWEL", in 2019 the MYKONOS RIVIERA' and in 2021 the "MYKONOS EXPLORER".

Today, the safe vessels belong to a company called:

"JOINT- VENTURE OF PASSENGER VESSELS OF MYKONOS-DELOS", "DELOS TOURS".

The family with their collaborators continue the tradition of the rapid and safe transfer of pilgrims from Mykonos to Delos, the island of Light.
